1 Terms and conditions for accounts

1.1 About these terms and conditions

These Deposit products terms and conditions detail the respective rights and obligations of you and AMP Bank in relation to accounts. These terms and conditions also give information on a range of topics concerning the operation of your account.

The terms and conditions that apply to your account comprise these Deposit products terms and conditions, the Account access and operating terms and conditions and the Deposit product fees and charges guide.

These terms and conditions are provided to assist you to compare products and to decide whether to acquire accounts. Some of the more important aspects of your relationship with us are included, such as our duty of confidentiality to you and our complaint handling procedures.

Worked dollar examples of certain benefits and fees that may apply to an account are illustrative only and do not reflect the circumstances applicable to a particular customer.

The information in these terms and conditions is subject to change from time to time. We will notify you of material changes as outlined in condition 8.4.1 - What happens if we vary these terms and conditions? Where the change is not materially adverse to you, we will advise you as outlined in that same condition. You will be provided with notice of any materially adverse change before that change takes place and in accordance with your nominated notice options.

From the effective date of a change, you will also be able to obtain information about the change by contacting us on 13 30 30, Monday to Friday 8.00am to 8.00pm and Saturday and Sunday 9.00am to 5.00pm (Sydney time), or on our website at amp.com.au/bankterms.

A copy of any updated information will be made available to you on request without charge.

The information provided in these terms and conditions is general information only and does not take into account your personal financial situation or needs. You should obtain financial advice tailored to your personal circumstances.

We will determine from time to time the minimum and maximum terms for a term deposit. Within the range set by us, you may choose a term of any length.

The minimum term for a new term deposit depends on the opening balance of the term deposit. See Condition 2 - Product features at a glance for details.

For term deposits with terms less than five years, if the prospective maturity date is on a non-business day, the actual maturity date of your term deposit will be set as the next business day.

For term deposits with terms of five years, if the prospective maturity date is on a non-business day, the actual maturity date of your term deposit will be set as the last business day before that prospective maturity date.

To find out about the current range of terms and interest rates available, contact us on 13 30 30 or go to our website at amp.com.au.

4.6 Confirming your account details

We will send you confirmation of the details of your account (that is not a term deposit) after we open it, either by letter or electronically.

We will send you a confirmation of the details of your term deposit after we open it, and after we pay interest at any time during the term, either by letter or electronically.

5 Interest

5.1 When and how interest is calculated

5.1.1 Interest we pay on accounts (that are not term deposits)

We calculate interest from the date your account is opened. We may vary the interest rate applying to your account at any time without your consent. The interest rate for your account may also change depending on the daily balance held in the account.

Interest is calculated and accrued daily based on the balance of your account. Interest is paid on the first day of the month after the month in which it accrues.

For example, if:

- your account is opened on the first day of the month
- the month in which the interest is calculated has 30 days
- your account balance is $1,000 at the close of business for every day of the month
- the current interest rate applicable to your account is 2.50% pa
- your interest is paid monthly,

then the interest paid to your account on the first day of the next month will be calculated as follows:

$$\frac{($1,000 \times 2.50\%)}{365} \times 30 = $2.05$$

We do not pay you any interest for the day on which your account is closed.

Details of the interest rates applicable to accounts are available by calling us on 13 30 30 or on our website at amp.com.au.

5.1.2 Interest we pay on accounts opened on the last day of any month

If your account is opened on the last day of any month, the interest is calculated daily (including for that day) and paid on the first day of the second month after the account was opened.

For example, if :

- your account is opened on 31 July and the account balance on that day and every day of the following month is $1,000
- the current interest rate applicable to your account is 2.50% pa
- the interest is paid monthly,

then the first interest amount paid to your account - for 32 days (1 day in July and 31 days in August) - will be paid to your account on 1 September, and will be calculated as follows:

$$\frac{($1,000 \times 2.50\%)}{365} \times 32 = $2.19$$

5.1.3 Interest we pay on term deposits

The interest rate applying on a term deposit varies depending on:

- the term of the deposit
- the amount of the deposit
- how often interest is paid.

We calculate interest from the date your account is opened. Once a term commences, the interest rate is fixed for that term.

Interest is calculated daily and is paid:

- at maturity for terms of less than 1 year
- monthly, quarterly, 6-monthly, or annually for terms of 1 year or more

We do not pay you any interest for the day on which your term deposit is closed.

Interest on a term deposit is paid:

- into your nominated account with us or another bank, building society or credit union
- to you by bank cheque
- into your term deposit when it is rolled over and held for another term, and you have instructed us to reinvest the interest payable at maturity.

If interest is paid to you during the term of the deposit ('interim interest'), we will deposit it into an account you nominate, or pay you by bank cheque.

For example, if;

- you opened a term deposit on 1 June with a balance of $20,000 with a balance of $20,000 for a 12-month term
- the current interest rate applicable is 2.50% pa
- you request interest to be paid quarterly,

then the first interim interest payment would be calculated up to 31 August and paid on 1 September, as follows:

$$\frac{($20,000 \times 2.50\%)}{365} \times 92 \text{ (no of days in quarter)} = $126.03$$

Details of the interest rate applied to your term deposit are available by contacting us on 13 30 30 or by viewing your account through My AMP or the My AMP app.

Details of Interest rates applicable to new term deposits are available by contacting us on 13 30 30 or on our website at amp.com.au.

6 How to use your account - access and transactions

6.1 Using and operating your account

6.1.1 How to make deposits to your account

For accounts other than term deposits, you can deposit funds into your account in the following ways:

- direct credit from an external account or external party
- electronic transfer from another account held with us
- depositing via Bank@Post (using an access card)
- by mailing a cheque to us
- any other way we advise you.

You can make the initial deposit to your term deposit by sending a personal or bank cheque with your application, or by a debit to a bank account (held with us or another financial institution that you have registered with us) that is initiated by us.

For term deposits, you may deposit funds into your account only at the time your account is opened, or when you elect to roll your term deposit over at the maturity date. Other than at these times, you cannot make any additional deposits to a term deposit. See condition 7.2 - Your options when your term deposit matures for details).

Debits from an account (held with us or another financial institution) initiated from your account to make a deposit to your account may be permitted, solely at our discretion.

Some deposit methods listed above may not be available on all accounts. See condition 2 - Product features at a glance for details.

You cannot send us money electronically until we have advised you that your account has been opened. When you deposit a cheque to your account you cannot use or withdraw the funds until they are cleared. For more information on depositing cheques and clearance times see the condition regarding Cheques in the Account access and operating terms and conditions.

We may refuse to accept any deposit to any account for any reason, without notice to you. You will not be credited for any deposit we accept until we receive the funds.

We may charge you a fee for any direct credits or other deposits that are dishonoured.

Refer to our Account access and operating terms and conditions for more information on the ways to make deposits, and about other access methods.

6.1.2 How to make withdrawals from your account

You can withdraw funds from your account in the following ways:

- by access card via ATM, eftpos or contactless purchase
- online as a 'card not present' transaction or through a provider who uses stored card facilities
- using My AMP (internet banking, or the My AMP app or AMP Bett3r App)
- BankPhone (operator-assisted telephone banking)
- BankFax (fax banking)
- BPAY
- periodical payment
- electronic withdrawals
- personal or bank cheque
- pay anyone transfer
- any other way we advise you.

Some withdrawal methods listed above may not be available on all accounts. See condition 2 - Product features at a glance for details.

Direct debits initiated from other accounts to make a withdrawal from an AMP Bett3r Save, AMP Saver Account, AMP Business Saver Account, or AMP SuperEdge Saver Account are not permitted.

Withdrawals from a term deposit are not permitted during the term, except where we agree to your request for a full or partial withdrawal before the end of the term. See condition 7.2.4 - Early withdrawals from your term deposit for details about withdrawals from a term deposit before the end of the term.

Fees and charges may apply for withdrawals from accounts. Refer to the Fees and Charges Guides available at amp.com.au/bankterms for more information.

6.2 Using and operating your AMP Bett3r Account

Your AMP Bett3r Account should only be used and operated through the AMP Bett3r app. You should not transact on your AMP Bett3r Account through My AMP or using BankPhone services.

If you operate your AMP Bett3r Account via My AMP, your AMP Bett3r Account may not work as expected and so, for example, your scheduled bills may not be paid.

Access to and operation of your AMP Bett3r Account by any party other than you (eg an authorised signatory) is not permitted. If you wish to allow another party to access and operate your account, you must switch your AMP Bett3r Account to another type of account.

Changes to the functions or functionality of the AMP Bett3r Account will be made from time to time through an update to the AMP Bett3r app. You must ensure that your mobile device is set to notify you of app updates and you agree to install any update to the AMP Bett3r app before continuing to operate the AMP Bett3r Account. It is your responsibility to ensure that you are always running the latest version of the AMP Bett3r app.

For more information on how to operate the AMP Bett3r Account, go to amp.com.au/bett3r.

6.2.1 How to use your AMP Bett3r Account

You can use your AMP Bett3r Account in the following ways:

Bett3r Pay:

- allocate income to, and set up bills or payments in your Bett3r Pay
- if a payment or bill is allocated to a distribution cycle the funds will be reserved in your Bett3r Pay until you make the payment
- bills or payments may not be paid automatically unless you choose to pay them automatically at the time you have set them up, or when you maintain them
- you must also ensure there are sufficient funds in your Bett3r Pay account to meet the payment by setting up a bill in the AMP Bett3r app to match the bill you want to pay and checking that it is showing in the 'My Cycle' screen on the AMP Bett3r app.

You agree that we are not liable to ensure bills or payments are paid.

If no bills or save goals are set up in your Bett3r Pay, funds will be automatically transferred to your Bett3r Spend.

Bett3r Save:

- set up save goals and allocate a regular amount from your Bett3r Pay to your Bett3r Spend and a target date for each savings goal
- your AMP Bett3r Account will transfer the regular savings amount from your Bett3r Pay to your Bett3r Save if you have sufficient funds available in your Bett3r Pay after funds have been reserved to meet bills in each distribution cycle.

Bett3r Spend:

- once income has been reserved in your Bett3r Pay for bills and payments, and allocated to your Bett3r Save for Save goals, excess funds are transferred to your Bett3r Spend
- you can choose to keep the funds in your Bett3r Spend or transfer more funds to your Bett3r Save.

We do not recommend setting up any recurring payments in the Bett3r Spend.

My Cycle:

- My Cycle can be set as weekly, fortnightly, or monthly.

You should align the cycle to start on the earliest day you expect your income to be credited to the account.

AMP Bett3r Account automatic sweeping:

If there are insufficient funds in your Bett3r Pay to meet pending bills or payments in a My Cycle period, funds (if available) will be transferred from your Bett3r Spend to your Bett3r Pay.

If sufficient funds are not available to cover:

- an overdraw of your Bett3r Pay or your Bett3r Spend, that Account will remain overdrawn; or
- a bill payment due in your Bett3r Pay, the payment may be dishonoured, not paid automatically, and/or the account may be overdrawn. Debit interest and dishonour fees may apply.

At any time, you can manually transfer funds between your Bett3r Pay, your Bett3r Save, and your Bett3r Spend.

There is no automatic sweep of funds from your Bett3r Save to either your Bett3r Pay or Bett3r Spend.

6.2.2 AMP Bett3r Account access cards

You will automatically receive a AMP Bett3r Visa Debit card linked to your Bett3r Spend account. You can request an additional AMP Bett3r Visa Debit card linked to your Bett3r Pay account by contacting us on 13 30 30.

6.2.3 Things you cannot do with your AMP Bett3r Account

The AMP Bett3r Account does not support:

- non-electronic deposits or withdrawals (i.e. cheque or deposit book access)
- delivery of statements and/or notices by mail
- use of BankFax
- use of BankPhone
- any authority to operate or signing authority except 'any to sign' (See condition 6.6.1 – Authority to operate – signing authority).

Some of the things listed may be permitted at the Bank's sole discretion where the AMP Bett3r Account is an AMP Bett3r Offset Account.

6.2.4 Switching your existing account to an AMP Bett3r Account

You may request to switch an existing account to an AMP Bett3r Account as a Bett3r Pay, and we will open a new Bett3r Spend and Bett3r Save as part of the switch.

Conditions apply, and not all accounts can be switched to an AMP Bett3r Account. See condition 8.3.1 – Switching savings and transaction accounts for details about which accounts can be switched to an AMP Bett3r Account.

6.2.5 Risks associated with the AMP Bett3r Account

Your Bett3r Pay only holds the amount of money required to cover Bills that you have added to your AMP Bett3r Account.

To calculate the amount to be held in your Bett3r Pay at any time, the AMP Bett3r Account will only consider:

- the due date and payment amount that you enter for each bill
- the due date and amount that you enter for each expected income.

You are responsible for ensuring that the appropriate balance is maintained in your Bett3r Pay, by providing accurate and complete information about incomes and bills.

Inaccurate or incomplete information can result in your Bett3r Pay holding insufficient funds to cover your bills as they fall due.

This may result in payments for your bills being dishonoured or your account being overdrawn. Debit interest or dishonour fees may apply if this occurs..

The following actions may result in your Bett3r Pay having insufficient funds available to pay your bills:

- you underestimate amount to be paid for bills
- you overestimate expected income amounts

- you fail to add a bill to your AMP Bett3r Account for direct debit arrangements
- funds being withdrawn from your Bett3r Pay in other ways than by adding and editing of bills (via the AMP Bett3r app). This includes:
 - requesting the transfer of funds from Bett3r Pay via:
 - the Payments and Transfers menu option in My AMP or the My AMP app
 - Bank Assist.
 - creating or editing scheduled payments that debit Bett3r Pay via:
 - the Payments and Transfers menu option in My AMP or the My AMP app
 - Bank Assist.
- you fail to take into account any fees payable from your Bett3r Pay
- using Bett3r Pay funds via a Visa Debit card linked to Bett3r Pay without first setting up a Bett3r Pay debit card allowance or, where a debit card allowance has been set up, exceeding that allowance amount.

6.2.6 What happens to unmatched transactions in your AMP Bett3r Account?

Withdrawals (debit transactions) from your Bett3r Pay that are not automatically matched to a bill will be treated as unexpected expenses and will use funds held for other bills. An equivalent amount will then be drawn from your Bett3r Spend and credited to your Bett3r Pay.

To prevent this, you must ensure that any transactions that are bill payments are matched to the correct bill. If you do not, those funds will remain in your Bett3r Pay, rather than in your Bett3r Spend.

Deposits (credit transactions) that are not automatically matched to an Income item will be treated as surplus funds and be wholly or partly transferred to your Bett3r Spend.

To prevent this, you must ensure that any transactions that are expected income amounts are matched to the correct Income item. If you do not, funds that should be held in your Bett3r Pay to cover bills may be sent to your Bett3r Spend.

6.2.7 Bill due dates

A due date entered in your AMP Bett3r Account for a bill that is paid by BPAY, scheduled payment, recurring payment or pay anyone transaction is the date that the payment will be initiated, not the date the payment will be received by the biller or destination account.

The biller or destination account will not receive the payment until some later date, based on the time required to processing the transaction through the relevant payment scheme or system.

6.2.8 Scheduled payments debiting Bett3r Pay

When you choose to have a bill paid automatically from your Bett3r Pay, a scheduled payment is created. This ensures the bill is paid correctly by the due date you have entered in your Bett3r Pay for that bill, or if that day is a non-business day, on the next business day.

Bills and their associated scheduled payment dates must be managed through the AMP Bett3r app.

Editing or deleting a scheduled payment through other interfaces, such as My AMP, will break the link between the bill in your AMP Bett3r Account and the actual payment. This may result in the bill not being paid.

6.2.9 Skipping and pausing bills

You can choose to pause or skip bills using the AMP Bett3r Account to release the funds set aside for those bills. These bills will not be funded or paid until you 'unskip' or 'resume' them in the AMP Bett3r app.

6.3 Adjustment of debits and credit to your account

We may, acting reasonably, assign any date we consider appropriate to a debit or credit on your account (except that, in the case of a debit, the date will not be earlier than the date on which the relevant transaction occurred).

We credit payments to your account as soon as practicable after we receive them. This is not necessarily the same day that you or someone else initiates a credit to your account (for example using a direct credit).

We may adjust debits and credits on your account and adjust the account balance to accurately reflect the legal obligations of both you and us (for example, because of an error or because a cheque is dishonoured). If we do this, we may make other reasonable changes as a result, including to the interest payments, or fees and charges.

6.4 Overdrawing

You must keep the balance of your account in credit at all times. If for any reason your account is overdrawn, you must immediately repay the amount by which it is overdrawn and any debit interest that may have accrued.

To avoid overdrawing, make sure you know when a withdrawal (such as a cheque, scheduled payment, or direct debit) is due, and ensure that funds will be available for that withdrawal. When a direct debit and direct credit are due on the same day, the direct debit may be processed first and therefore sufficient funds must already be available in your account to cover the withdrawal.

We may charge interest whenever your account is overdrawn with or without prior arrangements being made with us. Any such interest will be charged to your account on the first business day of the month after it accrues.

For example, if your account is overdrawn by $1,000, and the debit interest rate is 12.00% p.a., and the account remains overdrawn for a period of 1 day, then the debit interest that we will charge you will be calculated as follows:

$$\frac{($1,000 \times 12\%)}{365} \times 1 \text{ day} = $0.33$$

Details of the interest rates applicable to accounts are available by contacting us on 13 30 30 or on our website at amp.com.au.

6.5 Accessing and transacting on your account - additional information

For additional information about account access methods, including electronic communication, BankAssist and direct credit facilities refer to our Account access and operating terms and conditions available online at amp.com.au/bankterms or by calling us on 13 30 30.

6.6 Who can use an account?

6.6.1 Authority to operate – signing authority

If the account is in more than one person's name, each of you agree that each person may use the account and have access to account information without any other account holder's consent, unless you tell us otherwise.

All account holders are jointly and individually liable to us for operations on the account.

6.6.1.1 Any to sign

If the account is in more than one person's name, and if the authority to operate ('signing authority') on the account is 'any to sign', each of you agree that each person may have access to and may change account information and may transact on the account by any access method without any other account holder's consent.

Any of you may change the signing authority on the account to 'all to sign'. All account signatories would then be required to sign for any cheques and withdrawals.

If you want to change the signing authority on the account to 'any two to sign', all account holders must sign this request.

The signing authority for an AMP Bett3r Account must always be 'any to sign'.

6.6.1.2 Signing authorities other than 'any to sign'

You may request the signing authority on your account (except for the AMP Bett3r Account) to be set as 'any two to sign' or 'all to sign'.

If you do, and we agree:

- access cards (if available for your account type) will not be issued on the account
- withdrawals by cheque must be signed in accordance with your signing authority
- access by BankPhone and internet banking (including mobile banking) will be limited to viewing or obtaining account information only

- access by BankAssist may be restricted to account information unless all account holders are identified to our satisfaction
- any request to process a transaction or change account information will need to be authorised by all of you in accordance with your signing authority.

6.6.1.3 Authorised signatories and third parties

You may nominate any person to be an authorised signatory or provide authority to a third party to enable them to operate your account.

You can decide the level of access that an authorised signatory or third party has to your account. This access can be the same as or different to your own access.

You may not authorise any other person to be an authorised signatory or third party on your AMP Bett3r Account.

To set up an authorised signatory or to authorise a third party to operate your account, you must submit the appropriate Third Party Access form, or an Add/Remove Authorised Signatories form, and also provide an Identification Verification form (including any identification documents we request) for each signatory or third party. For details of the required forms, documents and information please contact us on 13 30 30.

The original completed forms and all accompanying documents (original, certified copies or uncertified copies, as appropriate) must be returned to:

AMP Bank Limited
Reply Paid 79702
PARRAMATTA NSW 2124

We must verify the identity of an authorised signatory or third party before we will accept an instruction, operation, or transaction from that person in respect of your account.

We will only accept instructions to conduct transactions on your account if those instructions are in accordance with your signing authority.

You must advise us immediately of any changes in authorised signatories or third parties.

6.6.1.4 AMP adviser transaction authorities

You may authorise your AMP Financial Adviser who has access to the AMP Cash Management Service ('ACMS') to use this service to transact and operate your account on your behalf. You can decide the level of access that your adviser can have.

To set up an ACMS adviser transaction authority, contact your AMP Financial Adviser. You must provide the authority using an ACMS Adviser Transaction Authority form which is available through your adviser.

Your adviser may delegate their adviser transaction authority to their staff (including their employees, agents, and contractors). Delegates will be managed in accordance with our delegate procedures. The conditions that apply to ACMS adviser transaction authorities are included on the ACMS Adviser Transaction Authority form.

You may revoke or amend this authority at any time by notifying us. You must advise us immediately if you wish to change your ACMS adviser's transaction authority.

6.7 Getting information about your account - account statements

For accounts other than term deposits, we will provide an account statement at least every six months. At your request we will provide statements more frequently.

For joint account holders, statements will be sent to the primary account holder unless you request otherwise.

AMP Bett3r Account holders must receive their statements electronically (online). Paper statements will not be provided.

For all other accounts you may choose to receive statements electronically (online). If you do, we will not send you paper statements. We will notify you by email when your statement is available to view online. You must have a valid email address and access to internet banking to receive online statements.

All transactions are listed on your statement in the currency of the transaction and the Australian dollar equivalent.

You should always check the entries on your account statement carefully and report any error or unauthorised transactions to us as soon as you become aware of it. Please contact us on 13 30 30 if you have any questions about transaction shown on your account statement. Condition 9.4 - Complaints and resolving disputes provides details on how you may lodge a complaint about your statement or transactions on your account..

All the statements for your account can be viewed through internet banking and downloaded for printing. A fee may be charged if you request duplicate copies of paper statements.

For term deposits, an account confirmation will be provided either by letter or electronically after opening, and after we pay interest at any time during the term.

6.8 Fees and charges on your account

6.8.1 Standard fees and charges, and fees and charges for special services

Standard fees and charges may apply when you make inquiries or transact on your account. Fees and charges for special services may apply if we provide special services at any time.

Full details of the fees and charges (including any government charges) that apply to accounts and for special services are set out in the fees and charges guides available by contacting us on 13 30 30, or from our website at amp.com.au/bankterms.

Special services include, but are not limited to:

When you or an authorised signatory or an authorised third party operate your account or request a special service, you automatically authorise us to debit any applicable fees to your account.

7 Closing your account

7.1 Who can request that an account be closed, and what happens?

We will contact in writing before your term deposit's maturity date.

We will include details of:

- the instructions you gave us as to how your funds and interest are to be dealt with at maturity
- the term
- the maturity date

- the interest rate
- the principal balance

7.2.2 Payment of deposit and interest

When you apply for your term deposit, you must also instruct us about the actions to take when your term deposit matures.

You may change your instructions at any time before the end of the term.

When your term deposit matures, you can instruct us to:

- reinvest the principal and interest due at maturity for another term (available for terms less than or equal to one year)
- reinvest the principal only for another term, and have the interest due at maturity paid to you
- pay the principal plus interest due at maturity into the nominated account with us, (or with another bank, building society or credit union) or to you by bank cheque.

For example:

- if your last instruction is to reinvest the principal and interest for three months, we will reinvest the principal and any interest due at maturity for a new three-month term.

If you do not provide instructions before the maturity date, your term deposit will be closed and the principal and any interest due will be paid to your nominated account. If you have not nominated an account, the principal and interest due at maturity will be sent to you by bank cheque at the address we have on our records.

We will pay the principal and interest to you, the account holder, only.

If your term deposit is reinvested for another term, you may be paid a different interest rate than the rate that applied for the expiring term.

For information about current interest rates and available terms at any time, go to amp.com.au.

7.2.3 Term deposit maturity requests

If we receive your term deposit maturity request (including any change to your maturity instructions) by 2.30pm (Sydney time), and you contact us by electronic communication, by phone or by mail, or if you contact us through internet banking, we will act on your request on that business day, subject to any errors, difficulties, or faults in providing the service.

If your term deposit maturity request is received on a non-business day or after 2.30pm (Sydney time) on a business day, your term deposit maturity request will be completed on the next business day, subject to any errors, difficulties, or faults in providing the service.

We will not be liable for any losses to you associated with a delay in us acting on your maturity instructions, where that delay is caused by your failure to meet the cut-off deadlines outlined above, or through your errors or inaccuracies in the instructions you provide to us.

7.2.3.1 Changing your term and interest frequency when reinvesting

When your term deposit matures, if you reinvest your principal only, or your principal plus interest, for another term, you may:

- change to a different (length of) term
- if the new term is 12 months or more, change the payment frequency for interim interest.

7.2.3.2 Adding or withdrawing funds at maturity

When your term deposit matures, if you intend to reinvest for a further term, you can:

- deposit an additional amount (up to the maximum balance amount)
- withdraw any amount, (subject to the minimum remaining balance being $5,000, unless we agree otherwise).

Deposits of additional amounts to or withdrawals from your term deposit can only be made at the end of the term, and before we complete the reinvestment of the funds in accordance with your instructions. Funds for any additional deposit must be available to us on the date of maturity of your term deposit, otherwise they will not be added for the new term.

7.2.4 Early withdrawals from your term deposit

You may request a full or partial withdrawal from your term deposit before the maturity date, subject to you providing at least 31 days' notice. If the time remaining before the maturity date is 31 days or less, you cannot withdraw before the maturity date, except in the situation below.

31 days' notice for early withdrawal is not required:

- where your request is due to financial hardship (see condition 9.3 – When times are tough for more information)
- for term deposits of less than two months
- for withdrawals within the first seven days of any term.

If you believe that, at some time in the future, you may need to withdraw or transfer funds from a term deposit without notice, other deposit products may be more suitable.

Where 31 days' notice is required, if the time remaining before the maturity date is 31 days or less, you cannot withdraw before the maturity date.

You must request an early withdrawal:

- in writing
- via BankAssist
- by electronic communication if you have agreed to this.

Your early withdrawal request must be made in accordance with your account signing authority.

We must receive your early withdrawal request before 2.30pm (Sydney time) on a business day to process it on the same business day. Requests received after 2.30pm (Sydney time) will be processed on the next business day. The full or partial withdrawal will be processed on the next business day after the expiry of the notice period nominated by you (a minimum of 31 days' notice is required).

Any principal amount from the early withdrawal (and any interest due) will be paid:

- into an account nominated by you that you hold with us or another financial institution
- to you by bank cheque.

7.2.4.1 Interest rate adjustments for early withdrawal

When we process an early withdrawal from your term deposit, the interest rate will be adjusted based on the proportion of the original term elapsed on the date of the early withdrawal. The amount of interest rate adjustment applied for early withdrawals from term deposits will vary from time to time, at our sole discretion.

For information regarding the current interest rate adjustments, please refer to the Deposit Products Fees and Charges Guide available on our website at amp.com.au/bankterms.

No interest rate adjustment will be applied where an early withdrawal is requested because of the death of an account holder.

If the original interest rate, before any adjustment is made, is less than the interest rate after application of the interest rate adjustment, no interest will be paid.

Any part of the original principal balance remaining after a partial withdrawal will continue to earn interest at the original rate for the remainder of the term and under the same terms and conditions which applied at the time the original deposit was made.

If interim interest has already been paid (at the original interest rate) and all or part of the term deposit is withdrawn before maturity, we may recover all or part of the interim interest from you by reducing the total amount paid to you after the early withdrawal is processed. This may mean that amount is less than the full principal of your term deposit.

For example:

- you started a term deposit for $250,000 on 21 December with a term of one year (365 days) and an interest rate of 3.30% pa

- on 6 January (16 days later) you requested a partial withdrawal of $30,000 giving 31 days' notice (resulting in a 47 day term)
- the proportion of the original term completed when the early withdrawal was processed at 47 days was less than 25% of the original term (47 days divided by 365 days is 12.9%)
- at the time a 2.00% pa interest rate adjustment applied on our scale of adjustment for this proportion of the original term.

The adjusted interest rate applied to the withdrawn amount of $30,000 would be 1.30% pa, calculated as follows:

Calculation for interest payable at the original rate

$$$30,000 \times 3.30\% \div 365 \text{ days} \times 47 \text{ days} = $127.48$$

Calculation for interest payable at the adjusted rate

$$$30,000 \times 1.30\% \div 365 \text{ days} \times 47 \text{ days} = $50.22$$

After the interest rate adjustment of 2.00% pa is applied you will receive $50.22 interest plus the $30,000 withdrawal amount on the withdrawal date.

7.3 Payment for credit balances or debit balances of closed accounts

If your account is closed in any circumstances and there is a credit balance, we will pay you an amount equal to:

- the credit balance
plus
- credit interest accrued but not paid by us
less
- any government duties, taxes, or other government charges payable by you
less
- any reasonable fees and charges incurred by your account up to and including the day we close your account, including any reasonable costs incurred by us in closing your account.

We will pay this amount to you by any means we deem appropriate.

If your account is closed in any circumstances and there is a debit balance, you must immediately pay us an amount equal to;

- the debit balance
plus
- debit interest accrued but not charged by us
plus
- any government duties, taxes, and other government charges payable by you
plus
- any reasonable fees and charges incurred by your account up to and including the day we close your account, including any reasonable costs incurred by us in closing your account.

7.4 When we may combine your accounts

To clear any unauthorised debit balance in an account held in your name, we may transfer sufficient funds from another account (or from a loan account) held in your name (that is, we may 'combine' your accounts) at any time at our sole discretion.

We will give you notice after we have combined any of your accounts.

We will not combine your accounts if:

- we know the accounts or loan accounts are not held by you in the same capacity (for example, where you have a personal account and an account as a trustee)
- your debt to us arises from some business or activity other than banking

- we specifically agreed to keep your accounts and loan accounts separate, or if we deem that your dealings with us suggest such an agreement
- we are prevented doing so by a code of conduct or law.

If we do combine your account:

- we will not include any loan account that is a limited recourse borrowing arrangement (ie a loan to an SMSF) in any action to combine accounts
- we will comply with any applicable requirements of the Code of Operation for Department of Human Services and Department of Veterans' Affairs Direct Debit Payments.

We do not have to combine an overdrawn account with an account that is in credit or a loan account that has available redraw to cover withdrawals already initiated on your account, unless we have agreed to such an arrangement.

We do not have to combine an account that is in credit with a loan account to cover loan arrears, unless we have agreed to such an arrangement.

If we do combine two or more of your accounts, we may also close any of your accounts and/or switch any of your remaining accounts into a different account type.

7.5 Unclaimed monies

We are required by law to forward the credit balance of your account, (less any fees and charges that may be owing by you) to the Australian Government as Unclaimed Money if you have not transacted on ('operated') your account for seven years or more, unless:

- the credit balance of the account is below the threshold set by the government from time to time
- a hold has been placed on your account by an order of a court of law, or if any other restriction by law prevents us from accepting deposits or withdrawals from your account
- your account is held:
 - as security for a loan or other financial obligation
 - for set-off or account combination purposes, or for a loan or another financial obligation
 - in escrow for a contract.

If any hold imposed on your account is lifted and then you do not operate the account for seven years from that date, we may forward the balance to the Australian government as Unclaimed Money.

If your funds have been transferred to the Australian Government, you may submit a claim for the funds to be returned to you. Fees may apply for the processing of your request for the return of any Unclaimed Money.

Please contact us on 13 30 30 for details of how to make a claim.

We may vary these terms and conditions or add new terms and conditions at any time, subject to the requirements of any relevant legislation and codes of practice.

We will let you know in writing or electronically at least 30 days before we make a variation or change which:

- introduces a fee or charge (other than a government charge)
- changes the minimum balance to which an account management fee applies
- changes the interest calculation method
- changes the balance ranges to which an interest rate applies, or to the interest rate tiers that apply to an account
- changes the frequency at which we debit or credit interest

- introduces, removes or changes a daily or other periodic limit on electronic payment transactions, a facility, or electronic equipment (such as limits on the number or value of ATM withdrawals).

For other changes (including changes in interest rates and standard fees and charges) we will let you know in writing, by email, or by placing a notice about the change in a national newspaper on or before the day it takes effect, or otherwise if we are required to by law or by a code of practice.

These other changes may include:

- changes to the amount or frequency of payment of any fee or charge
- when a government introduces or changes a government charge payable directly or indirectly by you. If a government fee is introduced or changed we will tell you either by email, mail, or an advertisement in a national or local newspaper by the day the new charge takes effect. We do not have to tell you if the introduction or variation of the charge has already been publicised by the government, government agency or representative body.

We may not be able to give you notice of a change if:

- we need to make an immediate change to maintain the security of our system or individual accounts
- you have not provided us with your current postal or email address, so that we are able to reasonably locate you.

8.5 What happens when an account holder dies?

If any account holder dies, their legal representative, next of kin or the surviving account holder(s) must notify us as soon as possible in writing or by contacting us on 13 30 30. A certified copy of the Death Certificate must be provided to us.

We may honour any cheque(s) dated on or before the date of death of the account holder, provided that:

- they are signed by the deceased account holder (or an authorised signatory if in accordance with the account signing authority)
- the cheque(s) are presented for payment not more than seven days after we received notice of the death
- there are sufficient available funds in the account.

8.5.1 Release of funds – accounts held by one person

However, on production of satisfactory documentation expenses such as funeral, medical or hospital accounts may be paid from the account.

Funds will be made available to executors or administrators, subject to the following being provided to us:

- any original documents or certified copies of documents we may request to enable us to satisfactorily complete verification of the identity of executors, administrators or beneficiaries. (Funds will be only made following our completion of that identity verification process.)

8.5.2 Release of funds – accounts held by more than one person

On the death of any account holder, we will automatically treat the balance in the account as belonging to the other holder or holders. This does not affect our rights at law and equity.

Upon receipt of a certified copy of a death certificate for the deceased account holder and a letter from the surviving account holder(s) requesting that the account name be changed, we will transfer the account to the name(s) of the surviving account holder(s).

We are authorised to collect your TFN under the Taxation Administration Act 1953. Your TFN will be kept private and confidential at all times. The collection and use of TFNs are strictly regulated by tax laws and the Privacy Act.

We collect your TFN to determine if we must withhold any amount from interest we pay to you on your account.

You are not obliged to provide your TFN however if you do not provide us with your TFN, or information regarding your exemption status, we are required to deduct withholding tax at the highest marginal tax rate plus Medicare levy from any interest paid on your account. If withholding tax is deducted from interest amount payable to you on your account, depending on your tax residency status, you may be entitled to claim this back when you lodge your Australian tax return.

If we deduct withholding tax, within 14 days of a financial year end we will provide You with a statement that summarises the interest payments from which withholding tax was deducted, and the amount of tax deducted.

If you have given us your TFN or information regarding your exemption status, we do not deduct tax from the interest payable on your account.

We also collect TFN information because we must disclose your TFN to a superannuation fund or other account provider if you transfer the balance of your account to that superannuation fund or other account provider.

If more than one person holds the account, the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) requires at least two TFNs (or exemption details) from those persons to be provided. If these are not provided, we are required to deduct withholding tax at the highest marginal tax rate plus Medicare levy from any interest payable on your account.

If a formal trust is established and the account is held in a trust name, the trustee may quote the TFN of the trust.

Some people are exempt from providing their TFN. They may include:

- pensioners
- children under 16 whose interest income is less than the amount specified by the Australian Taxation Office
- religious and voluntary organisations that are exempt from tax.

Contact the Australian Taxation Office for more information relating to whether or not you are tax exempt from withholding tax.
